Provincial Legislative Report

Albertans should know by the end of this week how much their provincial government plans to spend during the coming fiscal year.

From all indications members of the legislature will have finished debating the reply to the Speech from the Throne, and it is expected a special night sitting will be called on Friday to bring down the budget.

Hon. E. W. Hinman, who represents the southern riding of Cardston, will present his first budget speech since his appointment as provincial treasurer in the cabinet shuffle last summer.

There probably will be a normal increase in estimated budget expenditures for the 1956-57 fiscal year with more money expected to be sought for highways, telephone, health, welfare and aid to municipalities.

Estimates are that proposed government spending will amount to nearly $240,000,000 in the fiscal year which begins April 1st. Last year's budget called for expenditures of 222,963,072 dollars which was an increase of $18,013,360 over the previous year.

Of special interest to Alberta municipalities will be details of proposed increases in government financial assistance. According to reliable estimates, the government plans to set aside between $10,000,000 and $50,000,000 for capital loans to municipalities and the purchase of school debentures.

This augments the proposed municipal financing corporation, which is expected to borrow money on the open market and re-lend it to municipalities. The government will guarantee the corporation's borrowings, resulting in a saving in interest rates.

The budget speech is traditionally delivered on a Friday night, in order that the leader of the opposition can study it, and prepare to launch the debate when the session resumes on the following Monday.

At the time of writing, 11 members had taken part in the debate on the reply to the Throne Speech but there had been little in the way of fireworks.

However, notice was served that the legislature will be asked for the second successive year to consider a possible revamping of the province's liquor laws.

J. Percy Page (PC—Edmonton) and Arthur Smith (PC—Calgary) said they will ask that a royal commission be established to investigate the liquor question. Mr. Page, a teetotaler, cited a report that nearly 15,000,000 gallons of beer and liquor were consumed in a year, in the province and said the situation "is getting out of hand."

So far government spokesmen haven't hinted at their attitude towards the liquor question. But last year, they said more information must be gathered from the B. C. and Manitoba, where liquor laws have been changed recently.

Other speakers devoted much time to praising their constituencies and, depending on which side of the house they sit, criticizing or praising the Social Credit government.

Mr. Hinman had more to say about the proposed survey of provincial-municipal financial arrangements, and forecast "radical changes." He hinted at possible new sources of revenue for cities, towns, municipal districts, counties and school and hospital districts.

He spoke during debate on a Liberal motion asking that a royal commission survey the financial setup. The Social Credit majority defeated the motion.

The house also defeated a Liberal motion asking that in appointing magistrates in the province, the government choose only persons with legal training. Members passed a resolution asking that the government consider legislation to provide women with equal pay for equal work.

The government has not introduced any contentious legislation yet, but there has been one bill which could provide closer contact between the government and persons living in local improvement districts.

Letter From Carma Paxman

Cumora Main Rd.
December 27, 1955.
Mowbray, C. P.

To the Members of the Special Interest Class,

I just had to stop and write a line to let you know how much I enjoyed and appreciated your letters. Those letters were worth their weight in gold. Needless to say they took me right back to the 1st Ward and I was just a little homesick for the familiar sights and you good people—but, my it was worth it.

We had a very nice Christmas here but it seemed more like a July 1st Celebration (outside of the church). The natives were singing in the streets. Everyone wore paper hats and people were blowing horns and all kinds of noise makers. The natives have one gala event during this time of year, and the high-light of their festivities takes place on January 2nd and 3rd when they have the Coon Carnival. The natives compete against each other in a musical festival, and it is supposed to be very picturesque and colorful.

You can probably tell by now that Christmas over here is very different and without any snow, it just doesn't seem like Christmas. Of course it made it alot easier on us new missionaries.

Missionary work is full of all kinds of experiences. It keeps us busy and happy most of the time. My companion and I have a lovely seacoast area to labor in, which is a suburb of Cape town. The majority of the people are very friendly and right now we have some very good contacts. I'm even getting so I enjoy traveling. It is quite a challenge when we meet up with (continued on page two)

Friends of Mrs. Will Wilde will be sorry to hear she is a patient in an Edmonton Hospital where she is undergoing treatment.

LEGISLATIVE REPORT (continued from front page)

Hon. A. J. Hooke, minister of municipal affairs introduced the bill which would permit establishment of local advisory committees in the improvement districts. The committees would meet with the minister and keep him informed of conditions in the districts.

Some 90,000 Albertans live in the province's 50 local improvement districts, which are administered directly by the department of affairs.

On the surface, the proposed liaison measure appears to be a good one. But some opposition members have reservations about it, and will undoubtedly ask for amendments. As it stands, the minister would name the advisory committee personnel, and the opposition members fear the danger of political appointments.

A delegation of 96 women and 4 men got fast action from the Alberta cabinet last Wednesday when they marched on the legislative buildings demanding to know what the government planned to do about fluoridation of public drinking water.

The delegation, carrying banners proclaiming opposition to fluoridation arrived just as the afternoon session of the house was starting and asked to see Premier Manning. The Premier was not available but Health Minister Cross and 5 other ministers were summoned to the cabinet chamber. Dr. Cross told the visitors the government is considering local plebiscites on fluoridation. He said a two thirds majority would be required and that if people want fluoridation as a means of preventing tooth decay the government can't deny them. Asked by the delegation to defer action for a year Dr. Cross said legislation probably will call for plebiscites to be held about a year from now.

the Jewish people, but we just go ahead and sell them a history of the ancient people of America. There are a lot of Jewish people here in Seapoint and they are very receptive. We never know whether they invite us in because of our message or our American accent. —We usually get in though.

There are some wonderful members here in Capetown, and they certainly have opened their hearts and homes to the missionaries. They have a very small choir here but they can really put out beautiful music.

December 28th.

Although this is a lax season for proselyting, we are kept busy with lessons and visual aids. This mission is very advanced as far as visual aids are concerned. I just wish the Stake Missionaries at home could have attended the convention on visual aids, for it really was inspiring and also a challenge.

I love the gospel more each day, and it is such a joy to see people progress spiritually and to have a desire to learn more of the gospel. There is always the converse however, for it really is an empty and sorrowful feeling when they have no desire for the truth and knowledge. Indifference and self satisfaction are truly tools of the Devil.

This may sound crazy, but I would just love to see missionaries go from door to door at home and teach the gospel—even to the members. So many people don't understand it or realize its importance and the joy and happiness which can be theirs by keeping the commandments of God and continually striving to do His will.

It probably sounds like I'm ready to convert the world—I'd love to but then too I don't want you to think I've gone fanatical. I just wish every one had a knowledge and testimony of the gospel — and a desire to progress therein.

My, it almost sounds like a sermon I really just meant to drop a line and say thank you for the encouraging and inspiring letters. It truly means a lot to hear about those at home and know that you are remembered.

May the Lord bless you all with those blessings necessary for your health and happiness in this life and eternities to come.

With love,
Carma

In spite of our "scientific age", it's amazing how many old wives' tales still persist. For instance, there's the one about painted surfaces being especially fire hazards.

Actually, dried paint, instead of tending to spread flame, effectively retards it! In the early stages of a fire ordinary paints, particularly semi-gloss ones, slow down the blaze.

You can check this next time you are around a bonfire. Throw on painted and unpainted boards and just watch which catches fire and is burned first.

SERVING ALBERTA PRODUCERS WITH OVER 100 COUNTRY ELEVATORS

CBC News Service, now celebrating its fifteenth anniversary, processes more than 3 million words of incoming copy a day in the preparation of radio and TV newscasts for Canadians. Five nationally known newscasters are pictured above in the CBC's central news room looking at a news script prepared for one of the CBC's first newscasts 15 years ago; (L to R) Lamont Tilden, Larry Henderson, Frank Herbert, Harry Mannis and Earl Cameron. Approximately 100 editors and writers are employed in news gathering and editing for CBC radio and TV newscasts.

The Northwest Territories and the Yukon Territory are together more than half the size of the United States.

... FOR TECHNIQUE

... THAT TUMBLED

A member of the supposedly "weaker sex" doesn't appear here to be very "weak" as she demonstrates the art of judo. Mary Ann Ray, a 15-year-old schoolgirl in Belleville, Ont., believes that if more females mastered this technique they would be better equipped to handle those of the opposite sex. Mary demonstrates what she means by giving the old heave-ho to LAC John Mondon.

10 DAYS between PROFIT and LOSS

Ten days ago the grain stood straight and promising in the fields. Then the temperature dropped... and the crop bowed to its greatest enemy—frost.

Ten days—your earlier harvest bonus from fertilizer—would have made the difference between profit and loss from frost-killed grain. Elephant Brand high analysis fertilizers, rich in nitrogen and phosphorous plant food and "tailor-made" for the Canadian Prairies, brings grain crops to maturity faster... a harvest up to ten days earlier.

Vegetables will stay crisp many days longer if placed wet in a polythene bag and stored in the refrigerator. If you have to keep them too long and they wilt you can freshen them in a basin of cold water which contains a teaspoon of vinegar or lemon juice.

Scientists report that the average shower adds between a quarter and half a pound of water to the moisture content of the air in a bathroom. Four tub baths, taken consecutively, are about equal to one shower. That is why the walls and ceiling of the bathroom should be painted with moisture resistant enamel.

Women's luggage is becoming lighter and more beautiful each year—but also more practical. Colorful modern coverings are of tough vinyl coated fabric called "Fabrilite," especially developed to resist scuffing. After a trip, all they need is a wash with soap and water to restore their lustre.

After washing a household brush in hot sudsy water, rinse it in clean water, shake it to straighten the bristles or fibres, and hang it to dry.

The ease with which plastics can be moulded into complicated shapes have made possible kitchen equipment which grandma never dreamed of. For instance, there's a sink strainer on a catch all double bottom to prevent the market which drains liquid into dripping on the floor when the strainer is being emptied. Made of the tough waxy plastic known as polythene, it is almost unbreakable.
